TOUCH SKILLS TRAINING FOR PSYCHOTHERAPISTS

Instructor: Kathy L. Kain

This program is specifically developed for SE practitioners in the mental health fields who want to deepen their understanding of body-based awareness and expand their touch-related skills for use in S.E. and psychotherapy sessions. This program is designed primarily for students who have graduated from the S.E. training, but is also open to SE students who have completed the Intermediate level. Therapists without Somatic Experiencing training will also be considered. The primary focus of the program is on developing tactile, body awareness and other touch-related skills in the context of working with the resolution of trauma in a psychotherapeutic setting. While the program presumes that participants are open to incorporating touch into their practices in some form, the skills that will be learned can be adapted for use in practice settings that do not support actual physical contact with clients.

The course will be offered in two levels, each made up of two modules, of four days each. For those interested in acquiring basic touch skills to be used in the SE and psychotherapy context, Level 1, Modules 1 and 2 (a total of 8 training days) will provide a solid set of skills for using touch-oriented interventions. For those wishing to continue on into a deeper understanding of the use of touch, and to receive a post-graduate SE certificate, Level 2, Modules 1 and 2 are offered (made up of an additional 8 training days, for a total of 16 training days to complete the certificate course). Completion of Level 1 is a prerequisite for admission to Level 2. Each level of the course also requires 2 personal sessions and 2 case consultations with authorized providers for completion.

"Several researchers report how touch enhances therapeutic alliance...Therapists' congruent, invited, and appropriate non-sexual touch is likely to increase a sense of empathy, sympathy, safety, calm, and comfort for clients...It can also significantly enhance clients' sense of being heard, seen, understood and acknowledged by their therapists." —(Dr. Ofer Zur)
